

Burlington Police Department

Bicycle Patrols

Launched in 2001, the BPD Bike Patrol puts police officers on high tech mountain bikes in and around Burlington's downtown streets. Bike Patrol officers can respond more quickly to calls in neighborhoods and the downtown, and enhances the department's community outreach efforts. Bicycles and equipment made possible through the Pomerleau Foundation and the Queen City Police Foundation.