Students Support CCTA Drivers

We, students of Burlington High School, support the CCTA Bus Drivers in their efforts to negotiate a fair contract. Thousands of students in our district everyday use CCTA Buses to get to and from school. The drivers of these buses deserve dignified working conditions and reasonable schedules that ensure the safety of students and the public.

Management's push to extend the length of split-shifts up to 13.5 hours means having fatigued and overworked drivers on the road, which would impact public safety and harm drivers' family life.

Management is also insisting on hiring more part-time workers (without benefits). To make ends meet, part timers would also have to work other jobs, contributing to fatigue and possible safety issues.

Drivers describe a predatory management style, which includes disciplinary abuse, surveillance, and harassment by supervisors. Drivers often lack bathroom breaks and face arbitrary discipline.

We call on CCTA management and CCTA commissioners to meet the very reasonable and easy to accommodate demands of the drivers. It is irresponsible for CCTA Management to provoke a drivers' strike that would make it difficult or impossible for many students to get to school.

In addition, we call on Mayor Weinberger and The Burlington City Council to support the bus drivers who play a vital role in our community and school system.

Students Support CCTA Drivers

We, students of Burlington High School, support the CCTA Bus Drivers in their efforts to negotiate a fair contract. Thousands of students in our district everyday use CCTA Buses to get to and from school. The drivers of these buses deserve dignified working conditions and reasonable schedules that ensure the safety of students and the public.

Management's push to extend the length of split-shifts up to 13.5 hours means having fatigued and overworked drivers on the road, which would impact public safety and harm drivers' family life.

Management is also insisting on hiring more part-time workers (without benefits). To make ends meet, part timers would also have to work other jobs, contributing to fatigue and possible safety issues.

Drivers describe a predatory management style, which includes disciplinary abuse, surveillance, and harassment by supervisors. Drivers often lack bathroom breaks and face arbitrary discipline.

We call on CCTA management and CCTA commissioners to meet the very reasonable and easy to accommodate demands of the drivers. It is irresponsible for CCTA Management to provoke a drivers' strike that would make it difficult or impossible for many students to get to school.

In addition, we call on Mayor Weinberger and The Burlington City Council to support the bus drivers who play a vital role in our community and school system.
