NARRATIVE:

On the morning of July 22, 2014, Shelburne Police, Fire & Rescue responded to a residence near the intersection of Shelburne Road and Hunters Way for a report of an unresponsive two year old child. The child was transported to Fletcher Allen Health Care, and was later pronounced dead.

As with all infant or child death cases, the Chittenden Unit for Special Investigations has assumed the lead in this investigation. At this time, the cause and manner of death is still pending the result of an autopsy.

UPDATE:

On July 23, 2014, an autopsy was performed by the Chittenden County Medical Examiner's Office on two (2) year old Aiden Haskins of Shelburne. Detectives from the Chittenden Unit for Special Investigations are awaiting those results.

It was determined that Aiden Haskins was being cared for by his mother's boyfriend, Josh Blow, age 26. This investigation is continuing and there will be updated releases when information becomes available.

Anyone with further information regarding this event may contact Det. Ed Fournier at 652-6800.
